

Privacy Statement

The Austin Associates, P.A. (“Austin Associates”) website, in general, allows visitors to use it without telling us who you are or revealing any information about yourself.

When you contact us with the intent of receiving additional information, the Austin Associates website will ask you to provide certain information about yourself by filling out and submitting an online form. We endeavor to protect such information against unauthorized disclosures through the use of secure technologies.

Your information is strictly for Austin Associates use only. We do not sell it to or otherwise share it with other companies or third parties, unless compelled by law or court order to do so. We may transfer such information to a purchaser of our business assets.

Austin Associates will use the information you provide to fulfill your request of us and to gather broad demographic information about user trends, including time of use, type of web browser and operating system/platform.

Our website (www.austinpa.com) may contain links to other organizations’ websites, including social media platforms such as Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and LinkedIn. Neither these third-party sites nor their privacy practices are under Austin Associates control. Austin Associates can therefore accept no responsibility for your decision to access linked sites, to rely upon their information or to interact with them.

Austin Associates may also allow users to participate in our social profiles on certain social media platforms. This participation may involve, but is not limited to, posting, “following”, commenting, tagging or any other social interaction offered by said third-party sites.

This Privacy Statement does not apply to your interactions with these social media platforms or any other third-party websites, even if they are accessed through our site. Austin Associates recommends that you read the privacy policies of such third-party website providers to understand how your information might be use by those other providers.

We disclaim all liability for any computer viruses or other disabling computer code that may be loaded into user’s computers when they download documents from this web site. Austin Associates provides access to tools, including downloadable tools, but does not guarantee their fitness for any purpose, their suitability for any task, their accuracy, reliability or usefulness, or their compatibility with your computer or system. Users of this site are strongly advised to obtain and use appropriate anti-virus and security software.

Changes to our Privacy Statement

We may modify or amend this Privacy Statement from time to time at our discretion. When we make changes to this statement, we will amend the revision date at the bottom of this document. We encourage you to periodically review this privacy statement to be informed about how we are protecting your information.

Contact us

If you have any questions or concerns regarding your privacy while using this Website, please direct them to customer service using the contact us page on our company Website.